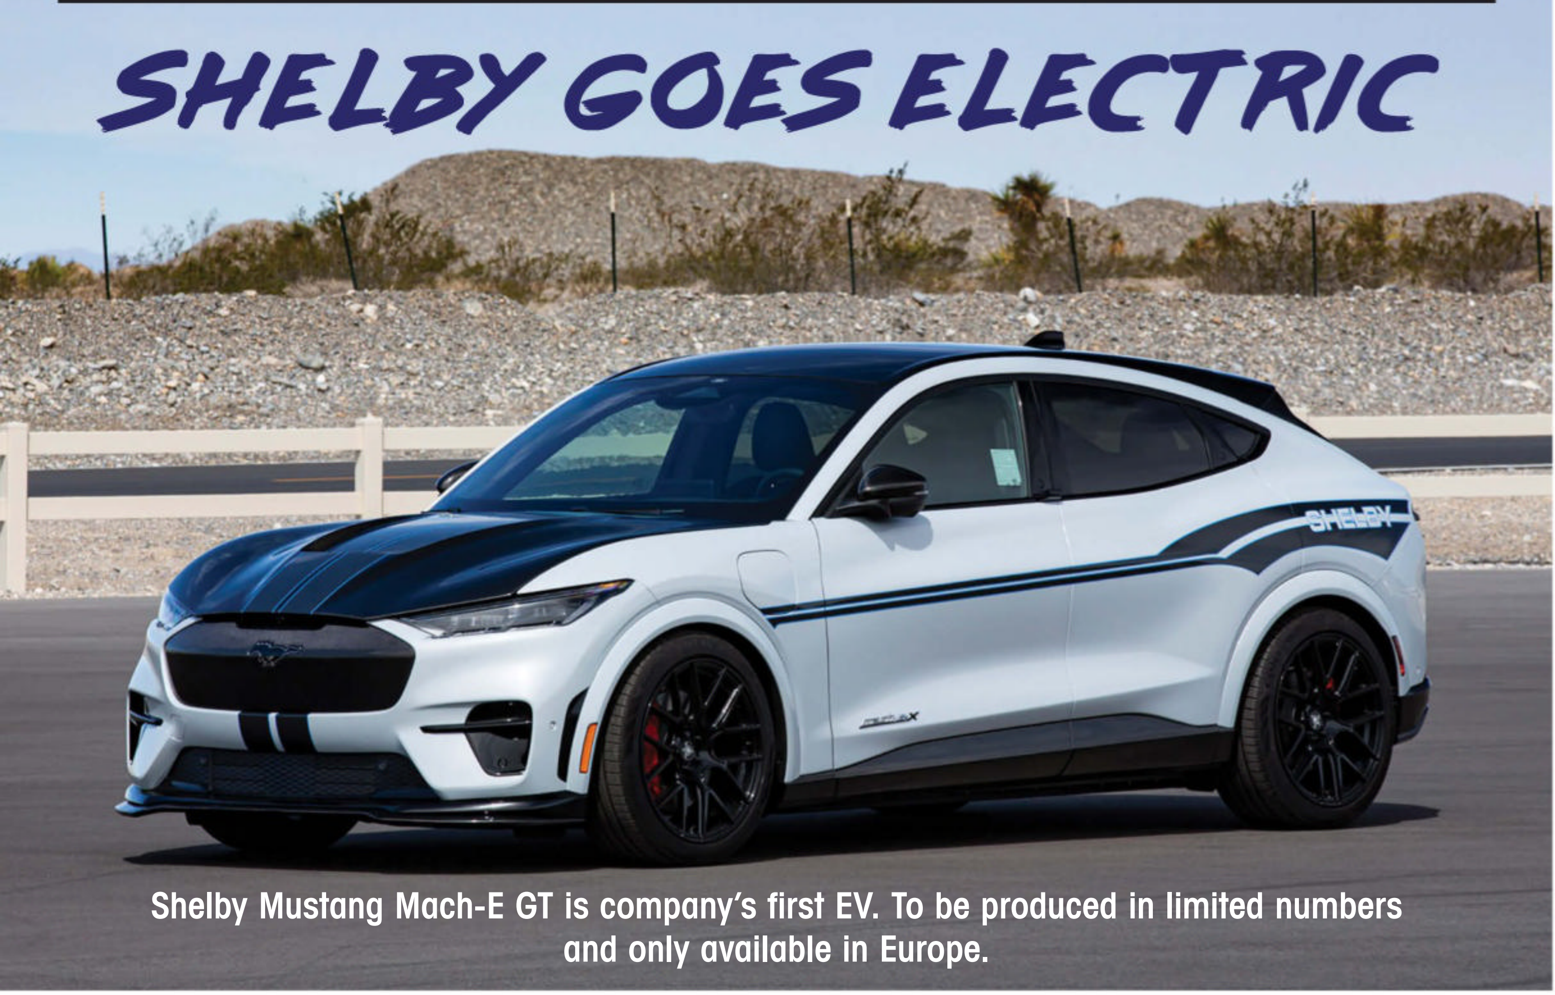
SHELBY GOES ELECTRIC



Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT is company's first EV. To be produced in limited numbers and only available in Europe.

Shelby American has broken new ground in announcing their first ever electric vehicle. The company best known for performance-enhanced V8 Mustangs has officially moved into the EV space, announcing a limited-edition version of the Ford Mustang Mach-E GT SUV in April.

Released this year in honour of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Carroll Shelby, the Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT is an upgrade package for Ford's Mustang Mach-E GT that will be limited to 100 units and, unusually for a Shelby vehicle, will only be available in Europe.

"We elected to initially offer the Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT only in Europe because sales of EV's are growing much more rapidly there than in the USA," said Aaron Shelby, Board Member of Carroll Shelby International and grandson of the company founder. "And from 2016 to 2021, the number of public EV charging stations increased by 431 percent across Europe. It just makes good business sense for Shelby American."

An EV bearing the Shelby name may seem anathema to many Shelby purists, but Joe Conway, CEO of Shelby American, says that Carroll Shelby's vision always embraced new [and in this case returning] technologies.

"Carroll was an early proponent of exotic materials and the integration of advanced technologies, including electrification," Conway explained. "In an interview published by Ford Performance before his passing, Carroll looked forward to electric vehicles.

"The first production Shelby EV fits perfectly into our goal to maintain Shelby American's position as a leading manufacturer of distinctive, small volume performance vehicles."

THE LOOK

Applicable to MY21-MY23 Mach-E GTs, the Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT is primarily a cosmetic package, defined by signature Shelby striping and extensive use of carbon fibre, as well as the application of Shelby lightweight alloy wheels.

Much of what's seen on the vehicle date back to a concept Shelby created in collaboration with Ford and presented at the 2021 SEMA automotive aftermarket industry show in Las Vegas. Some things that didn't make the transfer from 2021 concept to 2023 production vehicle include bold wheelarch flares, a deeply ventilated bonnet and unique front fascia.

The Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT's cosmetic features include colour-coordinated 'Over the Top' vinyl stripes, as per what adorned the first Shelby Mustangs in 1965, with additional bodyside striping and Shelby badges outside. Shelby floor mats and a Shelby CSM numbered dash plaque are added inside.

Carbon fibre parts include the lower door trims, upper grille insert, front splitter and mirror caps, while the entire bonnet is a carbon fibre piece, too, created by Shelby American. To what degree these parts reduce the Mach-E GT's 2,198kg weight is unknown.

Shelby forged alloy wheels complete the exterior makeover, and while these were bright metal on the 2021 concept, they're finished in black for the production model.

THE FEEL

Shelby American make no changes to the Mustang Mach-E GT SUV's electric drivetrain, which is a dual motor set-up, producing 358kW and 860Nm (480hp and 634lb/ft). Nor does Shelby alter things like the brakes, but they do fit a set of Shelby performance lowering springs, which drop the ride height by more than an inch.

These, along with the carbon fibre parts and lightweight wheels, are claimed to improve the aerodynamics and handling of the vehicle without the need for additional body elements, like a wing or rear diffuser, or pulling weight from other areas of the SUV.

"This is our first foray into a production electric vehicle, so we spent a great deal of time testing EV's on the track to understand their unique handling dynamics," said Vince LaViolette, Shelby American Vice President of Operations. "Based on that experience, we lowered the SUV over an inch, cut weight off the top of it, reduced rotating mass to enhance stability and enhanced the aerodynamics."

THE SOUND

Arguably the most contentious element of the Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT is its V8-mimicking sound. Developed by exhaust specialists Borla, this 'Active Performance Sound System' was unveiled at SEMA last year and uses a proprietary algorithm "with state-of-the-art audio processing and amplification technology" to replicate the sound of a high-performance internal combustion engine with "hyper realistic" accuracy.

The Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT will be the first production vehicle fitted with Borla's system, which includes strategically-mounted speakers inside and out, as well as the relevant software, to perfectly match the EV motor status and other vehicle dynamics with the aural sensation of an ICE vehicle.

"Sound, vision and touch are the three senses we use for sport driving. Without the real-time feedback of motor and vehicle dynamics through soundwaves and vibration, much of that experience is missing," said David Borla, CMO for Borla Performance Industries.

"This product is an instrument, in more ways than one. It's like an audio tachometer that provides drivers with real-time feedback, and it's also like a musical instrument that plays an exciting soundtrack that enhances the driving experience, giving the vehicle personality and a sense of soul."

Shelby's LaViolette adds: "One of the biggest complaints about EVs is the lack of sound, which is an important visceral component to motoring enthusiasts. That is why we integrated Borla's Active Performance Sound System into the Shelby Mustang Mach-E. This 'auditory connection' really intensifies the sensation and excitement of EV driving."

THE COST

Available in Europe from July, the Shelby Mustang Mach-E GT package costs 24,900 Euros (AU$41,000 approx.) over the base vehicle and is only applicable to the MY21-MY23 GT, which is the top-spec Ford Mustang Mach-E variant.

Expansion of this anniversary package to other markets, or making it available as a regular production Shelby model, had not been confirmed at time of writing, although Shelby American say they will be doing more work on EVs.

"We're excited about our first production EV and plan to roll out other electrification programs in the near future," said Gary Patterson, president of Shelby American. "We are already seeking ways to substantially push EV performance, expand the product line and work with partners."

Shelby's traditional vehicles and customers won't be abandoned, though.

"Shelby American continues to be firmly committed to cars and trucks powered by internal combustion engines. We'll introduce several new models over the next 12 months to keep V8 fans revved up," Patterson added.

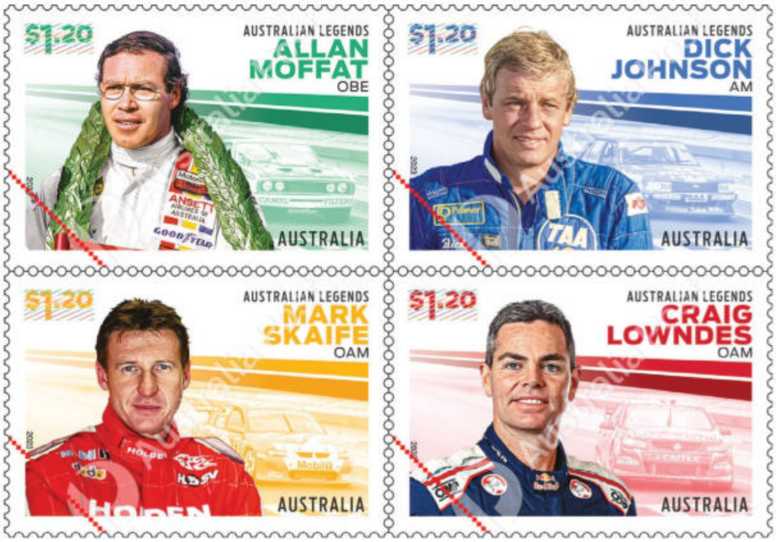
AUSTRALIA POST HONOURS TOURING CAR 'LIVING LEGENDS'



The recipients of Australia Post's Australian Legends Award for 2023 have been announced, with four greats of Australian Touring Car Racing honoured with a stamp bearing their likeness.

Introduced in 1997, the Australia Post Australian Legends Award honours living individuals who are considered to have made outstanding contributions to Australia's social and cultural life in a variety of fields and endeavours, demonstrating traits such as tenacity, perseverance, integrity and compassion.

Released on 27 April, this year's four Legends Award stamps feature Mark Skaife OAM, Craig Lowndes OAM, Dick Johnson AM and Allan Moffat OBE, with the driver's portrait and an image of their signature race car on each. In addition to being honoured with the stamp, all four living legends also receive a 24-carat gold replica of their stamp.

The stamp of five-time Supercars champion Mark Skaife features the Holden VX Commodore from his Bathurst triumph in 2002. Speaking of his award, the six-time Bathurst winner said: "Driving with Jim Richards at Bathurst in 2002 to win the great race and the championship in the same year is a great career highlight. In sport, there is no substitute for hard work and dedication, so it's great to be recognised by Australia Post in such a special way."

Seven-time Bathurst winner Craig Lowndes is featured alongside the Triple 8 Holden VF Commodore in which he conquered Bathurst in 2015. Commenting on his award, Lowndes said: "It is an enormous privilege to be recognised for my contribution on and off track. The Australia Post Australian Legends Award stamp series is a renowned collector's item, so to be included in this prestigious group is very humbling."

Dick Johnson's stamp features his XD Falcon from the 1981 Bathurst 1000, where he won after the infamous 'Rock' incident from the year before. In response to being chosen as an Australia Post Australian Legend, Johnson said: "To be recognised for doing something that has been a lifelong job, of which I've enjoyed every single moment, is a great honour.

"To be identified by Australia Post in this way is very special. My hope is to encourage younger generations and demonstrate that no matter what your goal is, you can achieve it if you try hard."

The fourth and final stamp in the 2023 Australia Post Australian Legends Award series features four-time Australian Touring Car Champion Allan Moffat and his XC Falcon from the iconic Ford 1-2 finish at Bathurst in 1977. An Australian citizen since 2004, Moffat's deteriorating health has seen friends and former racing rivals manage his affairs for most of the past decade. In 2019, Moffat was diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease and has been a Dementia Australia Ambassador since 2020.

CORVETTE E-RAY #1 AUCTIONED IN US

It's yet to reach showrooms, but the first production example of Chevrolet's Corvette E-Ray, VIN #001, has sold at auction, raising more than a million dollars for US education charity, DonorsChoose.

At Barrett-Jackson's Palm Beach Auction on 15 April, Chevrolet offered Corvette E-Ray VIN #001 as a fundraiser for DonorsChoose, and while the car that actually rolled across the block was not unit Number 1 (that car has yet to be built), Corvette Executive Chief Engineer Tadge Juechter was on hand to generate excitement and encourage bids.

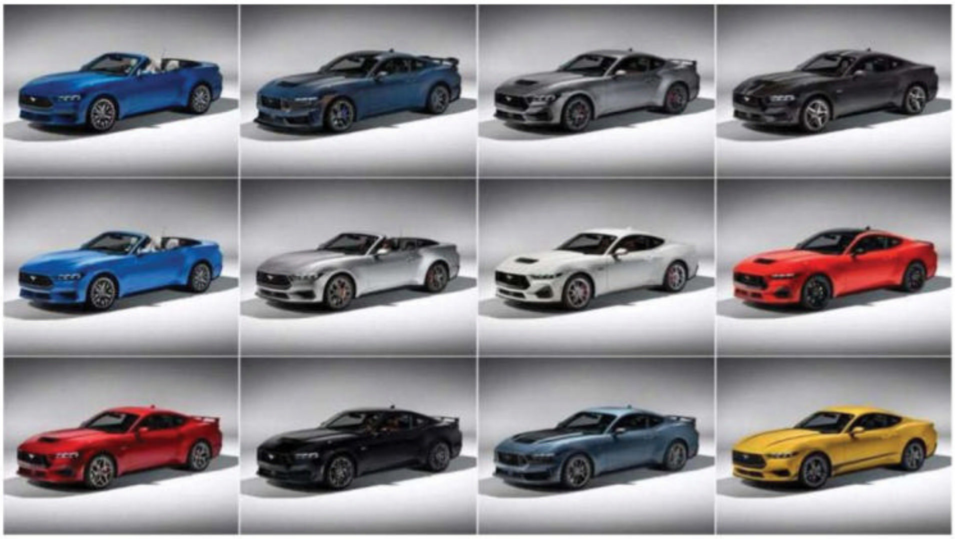
Announced in January and due to go on sale later this year, the E-Ray will be the first production Corvette with all-wheel drive, combining an electric motor on the front axle with the existing 6.2-litre naturally-aspirated V8 driving the rear wheels. The combination delivers a claimed 655hp (488kW) and 0-97km/h in 2.5 seconds, making it the fastest accelerating production Corvette ever.

This is the third "first" Corvette that Chevrolet has provided to Barrett-Jackson as a charity lot, following the first retail production models of the 2020 Stingray and 2023 Z06.

At the Palm Beach Auction, Corvette E-Ray #1 sold for US$1.1 million (AU$1.46 million approx.), with the winning bid placed by Rick Hendrick, chairman and CEO of Hendrick Automotive Group. Owner of 14-time NASCAR Cup Series champions Hendrick Motorsports, Hendrick has been the winning bidder for similar charity auction lots in the past.

The entire US$1.1 million sale price will assist DonorsChoose in continuing to meet the needs of public schools in low-income communities in the USA.

Including Corvette E-Ray VIN #001, eighth generation Corvettes that Chevrolet have provided for Barrett-Jackson auctions have raised a total of US$9.1 million for charity.



COLOUR OPTIONS REVEALED FOR 2024 MUSTANG

Twelve choices listed, but whether all will be available for Australian-delivered Mustangs is unknown.

With the release of the seventh-generation Mustang getting closer, Ford has revealed the range of paint options that will be available for the upcoming new pony car, including two colours that are new for the coupe and one that'll be exclusive to the range-topping, high-performance Mustang Dark Horse.

While the full palette for the Australian market hasn't been confirmed yet, it's highly likely that colours available on the current Mustang will carry over for the 2024 model, including Race Red, Carbonised Grey, Atlas Blue, Dark Matter, Grabber Blue, Oxford White and Shadow Black. Continuing these colours make sense, as they've been the most popular with local customers to date – especially Race Red.

However, in response to declining Mustang sales in Australia, niche colours from 2022, like Eruption Green, Mischievous Purple and Cyber Orange, were all dropped for the MY23 range, and it's for the same reason that the full palette of US market colour options may not be offered locally when the seventh-generation Mustang arrives here from Q1, 2024.

The new additions for the USA start with Yellow Splash, which is exclusive to the MY24 Mustang coupe. This bold shade is a true canary yellow, compared to the green-tinted Yellow Peel that was offered previously, including in Australia, in 2021 and 2022.

The second new addition that'll be exclusive to the MY24 Mustang coupe is Vapor Blue; a gunmetal shade with a heavy blue tint that has a more muscular look than the Antimatter Blue Ford has offered previously. While it's new for the Mustang, Vapor Blue was previously available on the Mustang Mach-E SUV in the US.

Rapid Red is a colour that was available locally a recently as 2022 and returns as a subtler and more upmarket alternative to the existing Race Red. This rich, dark crimson shade is evocative of similar colours seen on the Dodge Challenger and (dare we say it) premium Mazdas.

Another colour for US-market MY24 Mustangs - that may or may not be coming to Australia - is Iconic Silver. Last offered here back in 2021, Iconic Silver is pretty much as its sounds; a typical light-silver metallic that sits below the familiar Carbonised Grey metallic and will arguably look better on Mustang convertibles than the coupes.

Finally, 'Blue Ember' metallic is exclusive to the Mustang Dark Horse and features special effect pigments – deep blue infused with warm amber – that give a colour shift effect when viewed from certain angles and under different lighting.

While Blue Ember will be exclusive to the Dark Horse, it won't be the only colour this Mustang variant will be available in (at least in the US), with Oxford White, Shadow Black, Vapor Blue, Grabber Blue, Carbonised Grey, Dark Matter and Race Red also available. These options narrow to Shadow Black and Vapor Blue when the Dark Horse Appearance Package is selected.

Developed by the 'Ford Color Mastering' team, the pigments in Blue Ember are used in a higher volume than other paints to enhance the colour by reflecting light to create a "striking amber highlight" that looks different throughout varying light.

When the Mustang Dark Horse is released, special striping and decal options will be offered with this unique paint, along with Dark Horse-specific exterior trim.

Interior colour options on US market Mustangs for 2024 include Black Onyx and Space Grey, which will be available on all Ecoboost and GT variants. Harvest Bronze will be limited to the Ecoboost and GT Premium variant, while Carmine Red will be available only on the Ecoboost and GT Premium with Appearance Package.

For the all-new Mustang Dark Horse, only Black Onyx or two-tone Black Onyx and Indigo interior trim will be offered.

As with the paint options, all these interior colour options refer to the US market only and may not apply to Australian-delivered models. Further details on interior colours and other Mustang specs for the Aussie market will be announced closer to local arrival.

Big Red

With a big footprint and performance to match, this full-sized classic Ford makes a big impact.

WORDS Mike Ryan | PHOTOS Road Rage Industries

With almost 600,000 units built in 1964 and a dominant force in NASCAR competition in the same year, Ford's Galaxie should be a household name. And perhaps it would have been, but for another Ford that debuted that year and put every other car in the shade – the Mustang.

While it (and every other Ford in 1964) was overshadowed by the Mustang, the Galaxie was far from a failure during its time in Ford's lineup. In fact, it was Ford's top-selling model line in 1964, and the only Ford to see individual model variants sell in excess of 100,000 units. That honour went to the 2-door Galaxie 500 Club Victoria, like the car featured, with 206,998 sales, and the Galaxie 500 sedan, with 198,805 sales for the year.

While Chevrolet's Impala outsold the Galaxie for most of the 1960s, America's love affair with the big Ford was arguably at its peak during this period. It would remain in the lineup until 1974, after which time it was replaced by the LTD, which was first offered for 1965, and ironically, was based on the Galaxie.

FROM SHOWCAR TO SHOWROOM

The Galaxie was born from a show car, named 'La Galaxie', that Ford introduced in 1958. Purely a styling study, the La Galaxie followed the wacky 'Nucleon' and 'Volante' concepts, which envisaged nuclear power (!) and flight (!!), respectively. Part of a series of concepts, all built to 3/8 scale, the La Galaxie and these other small-scale concepts were less about previewing future styling or engineering developments and more about demonstrating how Ford was conducting research into the future at all levels.

Where the La Galaxie did accurately predict the future was in its description of radar-based navigation and a proximity warning system for when vehicles and other objects came close to the car.

FOR SALE
ROAD RAGE INDUSTRIES

The production Galaxie gained nothing from the concept except its name and arrived partway through the 1959 model year, as a premium extension of the Fairlane 500, to combat similar upmarket offerings from Chevrolet and Plymouth.

TOP OF THE RANGE

Launched in February, 1959, the Galaxie was available as a pillared two-door and four-door sedan, 'Victoria' hardtop sedan and coupe, 'Sunliner' convertible and 'Skyliner' retractable hardtop convertible.

Compared to the Fairlane 500, the Galaxie's differences included a Thunderbird-style roof with broad C-pillar, modified front bumper and tri-tone interior trim in a mix of cloth and vinyl. More brightwork was added inside the cabin, too, but these elements aside, the Galaxie was virtually identical to a Fairlane 500.

This included the frame, which was wider and stronger than in 1958 and pushed the wheelbase from 116 to 118 inches. Suspension was adjusted to deliver the softer ride befitting such a premium car, while the engines were detuned to improve fuel economy in what was a very heavy car, too.

Those engines started with a 223ci six, above which V8s in 292ci, 332ci and 352ci were optional, although the Skyliner hardtop convertible came with the 292 as standard. A three-speed manual was the standard Galaxie transmission, with the two-speed Fordomatic and recently-introduced three-speed Cruise-O-Matic autos optional.

Fibreglass bonnet with distinctive 'teardrop' bulge was applied to Galaxie-based NASCAR and NHRA drag racers that were available from the factory.

Despite coming to market almost six months after the other full-size Fords, the Galaxie was a hit, with debut year sales in excess of 460,000, far exceeding that of the Fairlane 500 for 1959.

As with the other full-sized Fords, the Galaxie gained a new-look body for 1960 and it was arguably less attractive, but maybe that's because us Aussies are used to the look of the 1959 'Tank Fairlanes' that stayed in the local market until 1962.

Perhaps the American market felt the same way, as Galaxie sales fell by 38 per cent in 1960, although other factors were at play, including the arrival of the Falcon and other American "compacts".

A REBOOT FOR '61

Galaxie styling changed again for 1961, with the look much more conservative and very reminiscent of Cadillac. Reflecting industry-wide styling trends, the tailfans were pared back, with side trim simplified and headlights incorporated into the grille. A Thunderbird-style roofline continued to set the Galaxie apart from the Fairlane, and while the existing engine offerings were detuned again, a new 390ci V8 was introduced, available with as much as 401hp (299kW). Late in 1961, a four-speed manual was available to make the most of this engine.

When Ford reimagined the Fairlane on a smaller platform for 1962, some of the existing body styles and trim variants transferred across to the Galaxie (now Ford's only full-sized model), expanding the range from six to nine and leading to a '100' designation for the entry-level variants and '500' for those above.

The quality of the chrome trim and glass on this car matches the paint.

Galaxie 500

Styling changed a little for '62, with a different treatment for the back end and some tweaks to the trim and badging. There was more going on under the bonnet, with the higher output versions of the 390 replaced with a 406ci V8 that was available in 385hp (287kW) and 405hp (302kW) form, and could only be paired with the tough Borg Warner four-speed manual that had been introduced the year before.

NO REPLACEMENT FOR DISPLACEMENT

More power and ever-increasing engine displacement was the product of Lee Iacocca's influence at Ford. After ascending to the role of General Manager in 1960, Iacocca was now starting to implement his vision for Ford that included embracing the youth market, releasing sporty cars and promoting performance, even in full-sized models like the Galaxie.

While not a performance model, the Galaxie 500/XL showed the direction Iacocca was going. Arriving midway through the 1962 model year, the 'XL' was defined by front bucket seats, a centre console with floor shifter and special trim. Fitted with the 292 V8 and three-speed auto as standard, all the other V8s and the four-speed manual were optional on the Galaxie 500/XL.

New styling arrived for the 1963 model year Galaxie, with a boxier look and new treatments for the head and tail lights, while Slantback roofline, introduced to the two-door Galaxie hardtop in 1963, proved to be incredibly popular, with some regarding the 1964 model with this roofline as the best-looking Galaxie ever.

Engine was updated to this more modern 460 V8 as part of a refurbishment and mild custom makeover in the USA.

side garnish actually increased compared the previous two years. Of more interest was the introduction of a 'slantback' roof for the hardtop two-door sedan. Released in January, 1963 and catalogued separately to the existing two-door hardtop, public response to this was immediate. Against 79,446 two-door hardtops across the 500 and 500/XL, Ford sold 134,370 Galaxies with the sporty new roofline, leading to it (or variations of it) being adopted range-wide for 1964.

Engine options for 1963 included 260ci and 289ci V8s that would become more familiar in the Mustang, as well as a mighty 427ci V8, rated at up to 425hp (317kW) and the basis for Ford entries in NASCAR and NHRA drag racing. Ford teams had been running the Galaxie in NASCAR since 1958, but became more successful after introducing the 427 and the slantback roof, as it was more aerodynamically efficient. Of 55 events that year, Fords won 23, including the prestigious Daytona 500.

Further body changes came for 1964 with the aim of keeping the Galaxie at the front of the pack on NASCAR's big ovals.

HIGH STYLE FOR '64

The Galaxie featured is from the 1964 model year, which was the fourth and last variation of styling that had been introduced for 1961. Compared to the 1963 Galaxie, the '64 featured a more complex grille treatment, with headlights pushed to the outer edge and forming anchors for the stainless steel side trim that ran almost the entire body length.

After sitting above the bumper in '63, tail lights were lowered again, with an accommodating scallop in the bumper that was almost a carbon copy of the 1962 styling.

As already mentioned, all "upright" rooflines were dropped, which along with renaming the entry-level Galaxies as 'Custom 500' saw the range trimmed from twelve options to eight, which explains why sales slipped from 648,010 in 1963 to 593,533, of which 505,397 were Galaxie 500 models; a figure that would not be bettered for the remainder of production. Of that number, the Galaxie 500 hardtop coupe, like the feature car, remained a favourite, with 206,998 built, but the four-door sedan wasn't far behind it, with 198,803 units sold for 1964.

In terms of engine and trans options, virtually everything carried over from 1963; a 352 V8 returned, but the old two-speed Fordomatic was dropped.

The body tweaks made to continue NASCAR success worked, leading to 30 wins for Galaxie drivers in the 1964 season, while in NHRA drag racing, a lightweight Galaxie was offered as an option to a similarly-equipped Fairlane. Both were powered by the 427 V8 and incorporated numerous lightweighting measures from the factory, including fibreglass bonnets and body panels, deleted sound deadening and bare bones interiors.

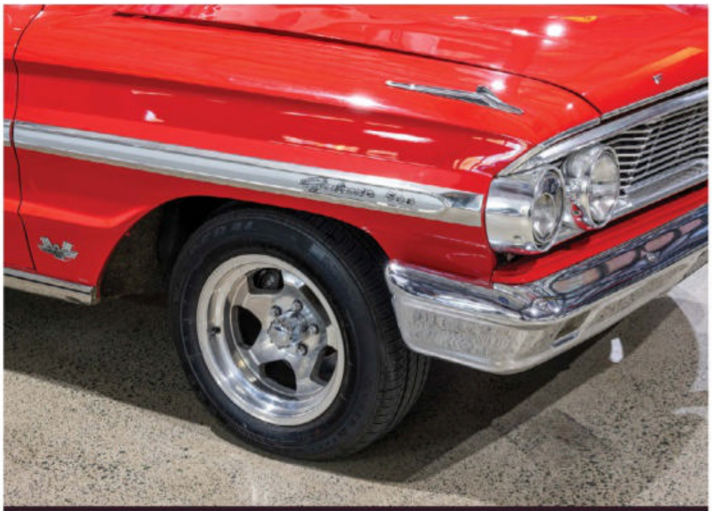
On these cars, the use of a 'hi-rise' intake manifold meant the 427's carbs and air cleaner sat proud of the bonnet line, so the fibreglass bonnet incorporated a distinctive bulge, known as the 'teardrop', with venting to draw more air in and extract heat.

RED STAR

The feature car has a replica teardrop bonnet, made from fiberglass, but incorporating a steel frame for strength. It's purely cosmetic in this case, as the 460 V8 fitted doesn't require the additional clearance. It looks good nonetheless and will certainly appeal to those that know of the Galaxie's drag racing history.

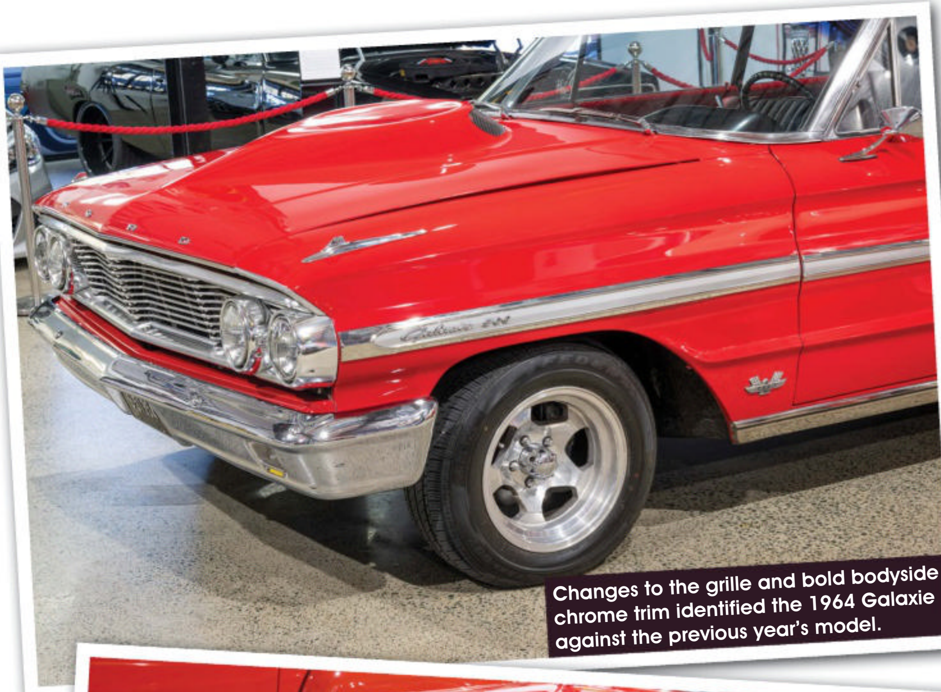
Ford fans will know that a 460 Big Block wasn't available until the mid-1970s, so its application to this mild custom Galaxie 500 is more about offering more power and improved reliability compared to the engine it originally came with.

Rebuilt, with less than 500km covered since, the 460 is matched to a three-speed Cruise-O-Matic and nine-inch diff. Output

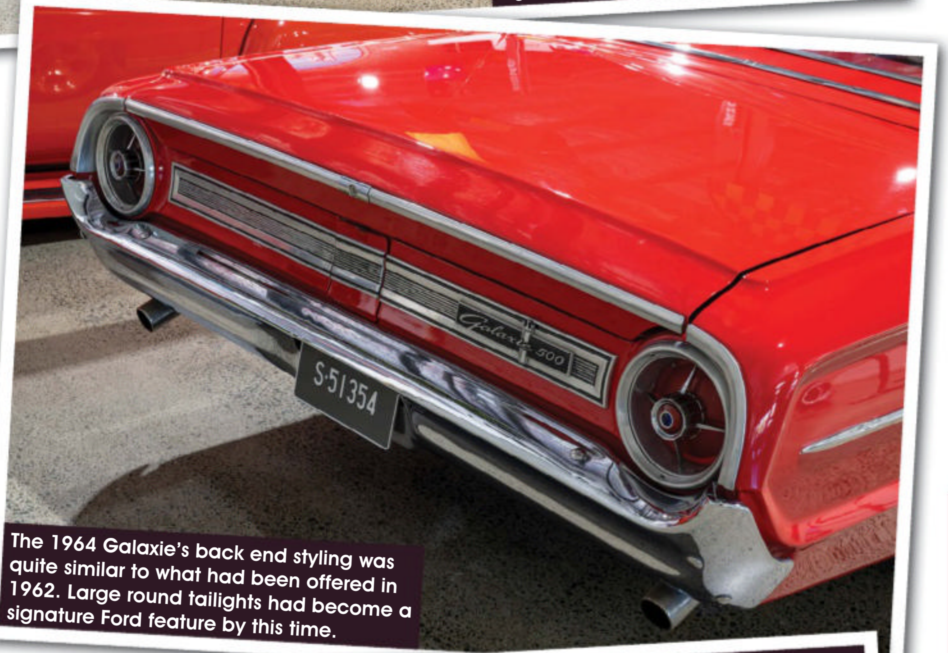


Aftermarket alloys are part of this car's mild custom treatment and cover disc brakes on all four wheels.

Interior is in the factory style, but the seats have been retrimmed in leather for a lux touch.



Changes to the grille and bold bodyside chrome trim identified the 1964 Galaxie against the previous year's model.



The 1964 Galaxie's back end styling was quite similar to what had been offered in 1962. Large round tailights had become a signature Ford feature by this time.

Boot has been retrimmed to cover the amp for the stereo upgrade.

hasn't been measured, but with the motorsport heads, roller rockers, electronic ignition and other modern features, it'd be comfortably in excess of 350hp (260kW).

To rein in that extra grunt, braking has been upgraded to four-wheel discs all round, but in most other respects, the car is stock mechanically, with standard coil spring front and leaf spring rear suspension.

Inside, the front and rear bench seats have been retrimmed in the factory style, but upgraded to leather and with a two-tone black and red finish that complements the exterior. Most of the rest of the interior is factory spec, and while some elements are showing their age, everything's there and it all works. An electric bonnet release button has been incorporated into the glovebox, with an upgraded sound system added, too, while some neat pinstriping on the dash adds to this car's cool factor.

Other highlights include a retrimmed boot, power steering, an upgraded radiator and extremely good chrome and glass.

Imported from California approximately three years ago, the car is largely as purchased, except for the rebuilt engine, and has proven to be a reliable cruiser in the hands of its Aussie owner.

Currently available through Road Rage Industries in Clontarf, Queensland, this Galaxie is ready to cruise and would be a trophy contender at car shows, too. As the Galaxie has some racetrack history in Australia, primarily in Appendix J/Group N with Denis O'Brien, the next owner could also convert it into a track car if they were really keen.

As mentioned at the top of this article, the styling and achievements of the '64 Galaxie got lost in the Mustang tsunami, so it's good to bring some attention to the model again.

Add this one to your garage and it'll bring some attention to you, too!

FOR SALE

Currently available through Road Rage Industries in Queensland, this 1964 Galaxie 500 has had a mild customisation as part of its refurbishment in the US. While not a comprehensive, bare-metal rebuild, the work done means this car presents well, especially the exterior, with its sparkling red paint, aftermarket wheels and that sporty slantback roof.

The upgraded – and recently rebuilt - engine is said to be reliable, while the auto trans makes for cruising comfort.

Inside, leather seat trim adds a luxury touch, while the sound system has been upgraded to circa early 2000s spec.

As listed with Road Rage Industries, this Galaxie needs nothing and is ready for the next owner to enjoy.

Asking price is $58,500.

ALL Ford DAY

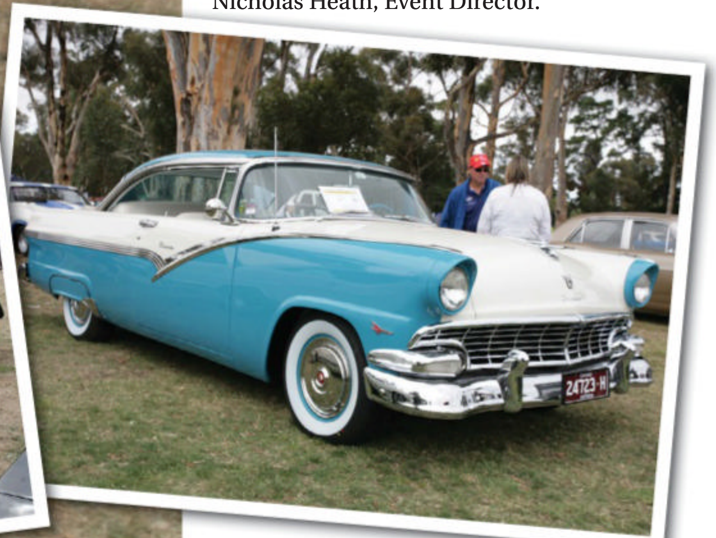
This year's All Ford Day in Geelong was the biggest ever, with more cars and more spectators than any time in the event's history.

Words & Photos Mike Ryan

Almost 100 years ago, the first Australian-made Fords, a batch of Model Ts, were assembled at a warehouse in Geelong. Full production followed, and although Broadmeadows took over manufacturing in 1959, Geelong remained a "Ford town" and is still regarded as such to this day. That heritage means it's no surprise that the annual All Ford Day in the City by the Bay draws Blue Oval devotees from far and wide.

Already regarded as one of the largest single-make car gatherings in Australia, the All Ford Day pretty much cemented that status this year, with event organisers reporting that more than 1,500 Fords and Ford family vehicles attended the 32nd edition, which is a new record for the event. Similarly, in excess of 7,000 spectators this year set another record, despite morning mist and cloudy conditions.

"We were hoping for a big crowd this year, but we couldn't have predicted such a massive turnout from both spectators and the overall Ford community. We had a blast hosting such a popular event and hope to continue its success next year," said Nicholas Heath, Event Director.



Those huge numbers vindicate the event's relocation a couple of years ago to Eastern Park on the fringe of the Geelong CBD. After being held on the grounds of Deakin University in Waurn Ponds for decades (and operated as a fundraiser by the Geelong chapter of Kiwanis International back then), the All Ford Day was arguably outgrowing that venue, but Eastern Park, with its large ovals and surrounding parkland, has provided ample room for the Ford faithful to congregate.

Trade stands, food vendors, an auction of memorabilia and kids' activities make the

1956 PARKLANE WAGON

Debuting for the 1956 model year, the Parklane was Ford's response to Chevrolet's stylish Nomad 2-door wagon.

Ford already had their Country Squire and Country Sedan wagons, but they were 4-doors and arguably didn't have the same "modern" and "sporty" appeal as the Nomad. To create the Parklane, Ford took their entry-level 2-door Ranch Wagon, glitzed it up with Fairlane trim and two-tone paint outside, and Thunderbird-inspired upholstery and trimmings inside.

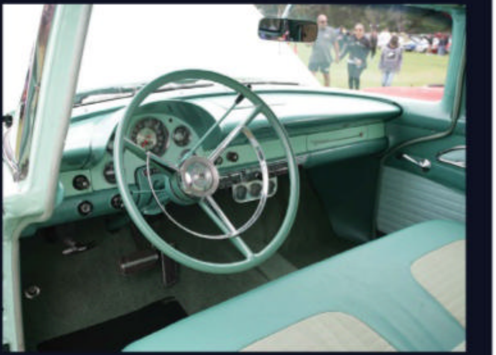
Three factory colour options are known: Pine Ridge Green with Meadowmist Green; Bermuda Blue with Diamond Blue; and Buckskin Tan with Colonial White. There's evidence of other colour combinations, but whether these are genuine or not is unknown. Exterior colours were continued on the interior trim, including the seat upholstery, padded dash, doorcards and carpet.

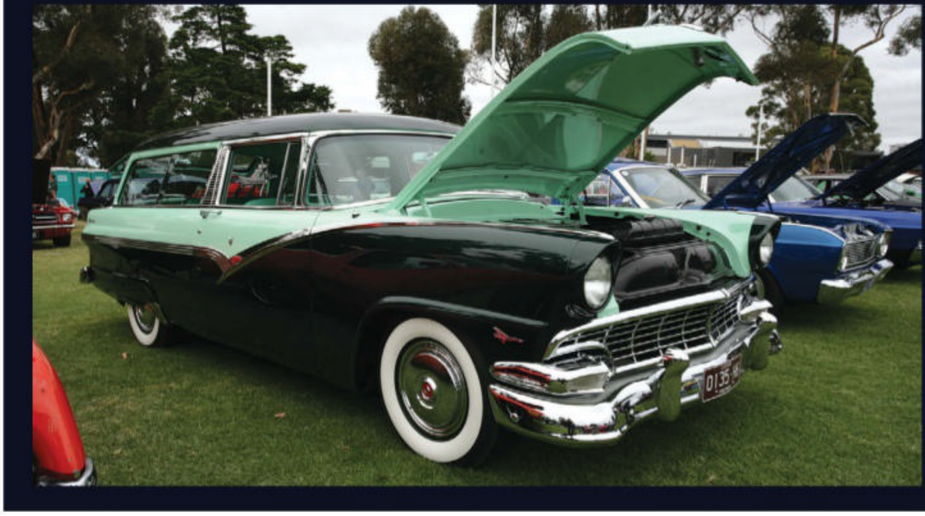
Other features included unique bright metal trim on the B-pillar, a fully carpeted luggage area and a security screen for this space in the form of a colour-coded vinyl cover secured with press studs.

As well as matching the Fairlane in looks, the Parklane also matched it in specification, including options. Available engines ranged from a 223ci inline six to 272, 292 and 312ci V8s, matched to either manual or auto transmissions. In line with the Fairlane, most Parklanes were fitted with the 292 and a Fordomatic 2-speed auto with column shift.

As a rival to the Nomad, the Parklane succeeded, outselling the Chevrolet by almost 2 to 1 in 1956, but 15,186 units sold (when the Country Sedan sold 85,374 in the same period), meant it was gone after just one year.

The rarity of Parklane wagons in general, and particularly in Australia, made the appearance of this fully restored example at All Ford Day all the more special.





It wouldn't be an All Ford Day without an MFP Falcon!

Fully electric E-Transit was one of a group of new, upcoming and development vehicles presented by Ford Australia.

All Ford Day a family event, but there's no denying the cars are the stars!

From hot rods to FPV GTs and classic Escorts to modern Mustangs, this year's 1,500+ gathering was diverse for a one-make show, but even if you've been to the All Ford Day multiple times, you're sure to spot something you've never seen before, like the FPV F6X and ZD Fairlane hearse that were on display this year.

As the All Ford Day has grown, it's also evolved, so it's been interesting to see how the mix of display cars has changed over time. Model Ts, Model As and other non-

2013 FG FALCON XR6

There was plenty of eye candy at the All Ford Day, but none matched this 'WLDFG' XR6 turbo for sheer eye-searing brilliance. In addition to being bright and bold, this car was also incredibly clean, to the point where you'd swear it had been built yesterday.

Information provided alongside the car identified it as a 2013-model FG XR6 Turbo, with the factory 4.0-litre six and ZF six-speed auto, but modifications have been made to the engine, starting with a Pulsar 3584RS turbo and Turbosmart external wastegate, Plazmaman Stage 3 intercooler and custom exhaust created by DSR Performance, who also tuned the car to deliver a claimed 390RWkW on 18psi.

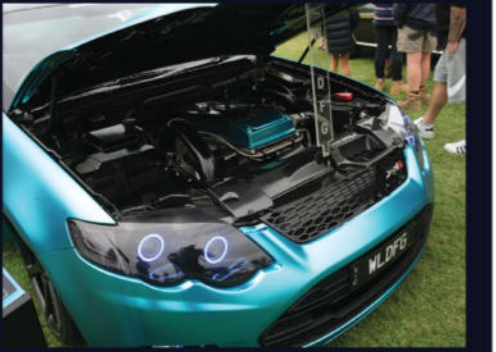
A Truetrac LSD has been fitted and the brakes upgraded to Brembo 6-piston calipers at the front, with PBR calipers on the rear.

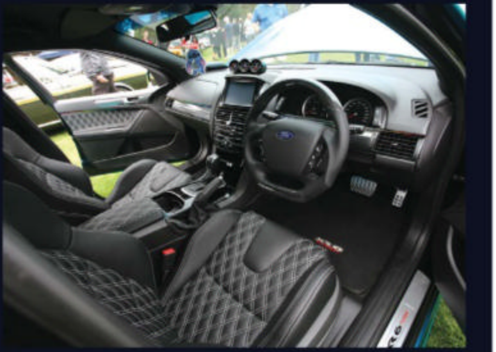
Wheels are 20-inch Vertini 'Destiny' alloys in satin black, while airbag suspension explains the ultra-low stance.

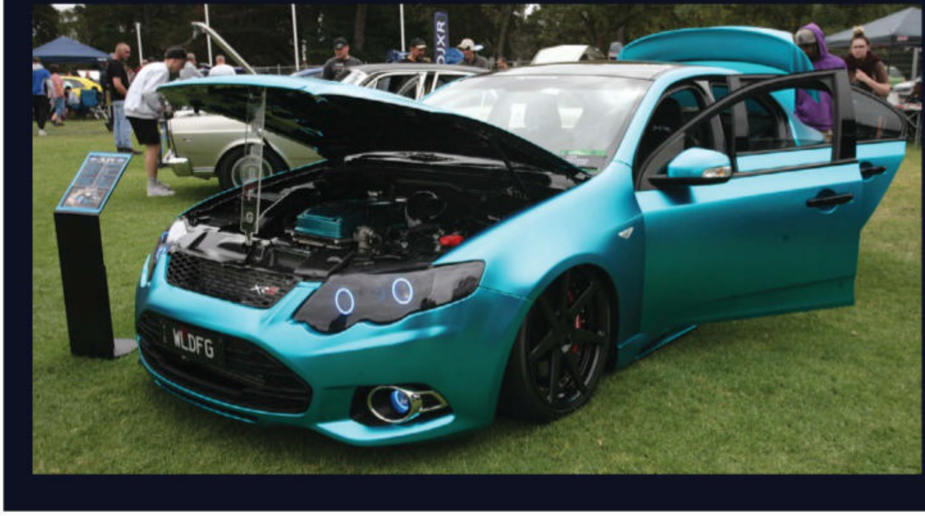
That paint isn't paint, rather a wrap, in 'Hexis Satin light blue chrome', expertly applied by Wrapped on Vinyl. The headlights are halo-style, as are the foglights, with these and the double row underglow lighting fitted by Dans Custom Lights.

Inside, the factory rear bench and FPV GT front seats have been retrimmed in black leather with quilted contrast stitching in white by BNB Leather. Custom floormats, auxiliary gauges, a steering wheel accented with carbon fibre and ambient lighting also adorn the interior. There's an upgraded sound system, too (including Kicker subwoofers in the boot), but the highlight inside was the Rolls-Royce style 'starlight' roof, fitted by Rizzo's Fabrication & Repairs.

This amazing custom FG XR6 Turbo had people around it all day, and its female owner has every right to be proud of it, because it was simply amazing.







rodded pre-war Fords are in the minority these days, while the current generation Mustang and the last of the Aussie-built Falcons have boomed and were present in big numbers this year.

Some may bemoan the change, but looking at these developments in a positive light, it shows that the car enthusiast hobby is alive and well, meaning it should continue into future generations. Who knows, in a few years' time, we may be seeing Mustang Mach E EVs alongside chrome bumper classics at All Ford Day!

SHELBY GT500 'MZ HYDE EDITION'

Unfortunately, there's not a lot we can tell you about this car, as the owner wasn't around when these photos were taken. Even though the badging and other identification inside and out looks legit, we couldn't find any evidence of the 'MZ HYDE' as a genuine Shelby GT500 variant, or indeed if this car is an actual Shelby GT500 to begin with, as a plaque on the radiator cover suggests it's a GT500 tribute.

The nearest link we can find to the origins of Mz Hyde is a track of the same name by US metal band, Halestorm. Lyrics from that song adorn the rear window, and a chassis number plaque inside references Halestorm's lead singer, Lzzy Hale, so our best guess is that this Shelby is a personalised tribute to Lzzy.

Regardless of its origins, this hi-po Shelby looked the goods in its lime green paint with white striping and blackout detailing on things like the front and rear aero elements, grille, fuel cap, taillights and rear wing. The heavily-ventilated bonnet is a genuine Shelby item, but the wheels (and possibly the faux rear scoops) are aftermarket.

Inside, it all looks like current-generation Mustang GT (or Shelby GT500), with further identification pointing to the Halestorm connection. An auxiliary gauge pod has been fitted and some of the lime green exterior has made its way onto things like the air vent surrounds and paddle shifters, with green trim on the floormats continuing the theme.

Similar custom touches are evidenced under the bonnet, with what appears to a mix of Shelby and aftermarket parts added to the 5.0-litre V8.

1977 XC FALCON 500 UTE

If you're looking to buy a classic Ford, the All Ford Day is one of the better places to do it, and of the 'For Sale' cars at the event, this one caught our eye.

The seller advised that the original owner, a farmer in the Barossa Valley, ordered the ute with the 351 V8 and three-speed auto. As this would be his last new vehicle, he loaded it up with options, too, including air conditioning, a stereo cassette deck, AM push button radio, four-wheel disc brakes, LSD, remote driver's side mirror and the GS Rally Pack that consisted of driving lights, sports wheels, additional instrumentation, a sports steering wheel and special décor items.

Interestingly for a rural vehicle, the original owner also selected 'Sedan Ride', which meant a lighter 10cwt (500kg) load capacity in the tray instead of the usual 15cwt. According to the Ford Australia data sheet on display with the ute, its combination of options made it unique in XC Falcon 500 ute production.

This ute's second and current owner bought it out of JUST CARS in 2014 and says it was in good condition as purchased, with a little rust - and plenty of red dirt! - being its only flaws. Regardless, he treated the ute to a five-year restoration that included a rebuild of the matching numbers V8, rust repair and a respray in its original Red Flame paint.

Inside, the dash, console and door cards were good enough to be re-used, while the seats were retrimmed in leather, as vinyl in the correct Saddle colour was unavailable.

As shown, the restoration's only variations from stock are Bathurst Globe-style aftermarket wheels (Performance Challengers in 15x8 size) and lowered suspension.

At time of writing, this freshly-restored, high-quality ute was still for sale, with an asking price of $88,000 ono. For more details, call 0417 267 269.

MALLALA MAESTRO

Paying back the Western States for their clean sweep of the Phillip Island Classic, Darren Hossack took five from five at the 2023 Mallala All Historic.

WORDS Darren Knight | PHOTOS John Lemm

Before The Bend there was Mallala Motorsport Park, the little circuit 60 clicks north of Adelaide that's still going strong some 62 years after its birth. Devilishly hard on brakes, the former RAAF training base promotes close racing.

Seven JUST CARS Victorian Historic Tourers journeyed across the border for this year's Mallala All Historic meeting and one of them was Phil Barrow, who along with a few helpers (including ultra-enthusiastic wife Kellie) had repaired his mangled Humpy after a rather big impact with the pit wall at the Phillip Island Classic in March.

RACE ONE

No stranger to Mallala, thanks to his Championship winning days in Sports Sedans, polesitter Darren Hossack (Mazda) was eclipsed off the line by locals Josh Axford (BDA Escort) and Kirk Davis (Mazda), but fought back to take the lead. Davis then came under attack from WA's Graeme Woolhouse (Mustang) and the Toranas of local Mark Blyfield and WA's Stuart Young.

Prolific Group C touring car collector Willi Van Wersch was back in the driver's seat after some years, but retired his XY Falcon with fuel pump issues. Fellow Ford pilot Adam Smith showed impressive braking ability in his XW Falcon, climbing from sixth to third on the last lap, but couldn't hold the position as Hossack bagged the win with Axford second.

The Toranas of SA's Mark Blyfield and WA's Stuart Young battled each other all weekend.

Woolhouse was third, bumped up the order due to post-race penalties for Ian Pringle (Mini), Davis and Smith.

RACE TWO

Hossack again reeled in the fast-starting Axford and built a handy lead as the fired-up duo of Smith and Davis moved through the order after their post-race demotions.

SA duo Jason Armstrong (Mini) and Brett Munns (Torana) retired with engine woes as Pringle and Johnathon French (Mini) duked it out. Meanwhile, a three-way Cortina slugfest developed between new HTCAV Life Member Les Walmsley and rapid locals Stuart Barnes and Paul Atkins.

Returning to Mallala after 22 years, Don Knight (Cortina) harassed the Mazda of Geoff Davis as Barrow spun into the infield thanks to, of all things, an errant stone inside the car that rolled underneath the pedals and messed with Phil's fancy footwork.

Jonathon French (SA) battled Ian Pringle in Race 2, but here he has Dan Foster (WA) locked to his rear bumper.

Les Walmsley's Cortina was crunched in Sunday morning's Race 3, but returned in the afternoon.

After a big bingle at the Phillip Island Classic, Phil Barrow's rapidly repaired FJ made it to Mallala, here hunting down the Cortina of fellow Victorian Don Knight.

Blyfield nabbed Woolhouse to grab sixth on the final lap as Hossack cruised to victory over Smith and Axford, with Kirk Davis not far behind.

RACE THREE

The red flag came out on the opening lap after Pringle found the Woolhouse Mustang facing the wrong way at T3 and hit the Ford right between the eyes, with big damage the result. Walmsley just clipped the Pringle Mini and sustained front end damage. All drivers emerged relatively unscathed, but Pringle was quite sore.

At the restart, Smith grabbed an early lead before Hossack came from miles back under brakes to demote the XW back to second. Kirk Davis's rocket start headed Axford and Justin Elvin (Mini), as Evan Gobell (Torana) just held out WA's Cono Onofaro (Mini).

Knight retired with a throttle cable issue (which Barnes also suffered) as Hossack took the win ahead of Smith and Kirk Davis.

RACE FOUR

Battered but mobile, Walmsley lined up for Race Four, thanks to several helpers. Smith and Axford made neat starts, while Kirk Davis's attention-grabbing T1 moment saw his Mazda squirrelly on the kerbs, Blyfield having to button off and dropping a couple of spots as a result.

Van Wersche careened off into the big sand trap at the top of the circuit, which saw the red flag come out. But before the recovery crew could arrive, he'd extracted the big Falcon and was driving back to the pits.

When the race resumed, Smith pushed hard but could not hold out Hossack, who won the shortened three-lapper, with Axford third. Further back, Barrow just held out Walmsley in a great battle on the final lap.

RACE FIVE

Hossack made his customary cautious start but was soon through on Kirk Davis, then Smith to build a small buffer. The wily Blyfield kept Young at bay again, with the latter harassed by fellow Sandgroper Dan Forster (Mini).

The man behind Racer Industries trackside service, Gordon Cox (MkII Cortina,) mixed it up with the ex-Ben Wilkinson EH of Don Costello as Knight retired with more throttle problems.

Smith lost a couple of spots mid-race after gear selection issues but then charged back up the order only to hook a kerb and clout a wall just in front of a run-off area that would have allowed him to escape damage.

Barnes was having a happier time holding out Walmsley as Hossack made it a perfect five-from-five score for the weekend - on top of the pole position he'd also scored. Kirk Davis was second in front of Axford and Elvin.

All the interstaters loved the amount of track time and the relaxed nature of the meeting, with many vowing to return. SA Historic Touring Car Cup winner Hossack said he'd be inviting plenty of drivers - slower than him - to come over!

Justin Elvin (Mini) didn't quite have the legs to beat the Mazda of Kirk Davis and BDA Escort of Josh Axford, but took a strong fourth in Race 5.

Proving that there sometimes is a replacement for displacement (at least at Mallala!), the high-steppin' Darren Hossack hops away from Adam Smith's V8 Falcon.

South Australia's Stuart Barnes leads Victoria's Les Walmsley and SA's Paul Atkins in a Cortina chorus line.

Victorian Darren Hossack's Mazda took five from five, plus pole, for a clean sweep of the meeting.

If you've ever thought "I wouldn't mind having a go at historic touring cars," here's a quick overview of the fascinating world of Group N.

WORDS Chris Ralph | PHOTOS Phil Wisewould

WHAT IS THIS RACING CLASS?

The Group N (Historic Touring Cars) category was introduced in the early 1980s by the Confederation of Australian Motor Sport (now Motorsport Australia) to reflect the pre-1972 'Golden Age' of touring car racing. All but a handful of the original race machines from that era have disappeared, so today's cars are mostly replicas built to strict MA rules, which you can read at motorsport.org.au.

OLD, OLDER, OLDEST...

We'll start with the oldest cars first.

- Group Na (pre-1957): For cars available in Australia - 'Humpy' Holdens, Ford Zephyrs, Jaguars, Austins, Simcas and Volkswagens, for example.
- Group Nb (1958-64): For makes and models with a proven overseas OR Australian competition history - early Mustangs and Falcons, Cortinas, FE to EH Holdens, Minis, Alfa Romeos, Hillmans, Volvos, Triumphs, Jags, Valiants and more.
- Group Nc (1965-72): For cars with Australian competition history - Boss and Fastback Mustangs, Camaros, Monaros and Toranas, Falcons, Valiant Pacers and Chargers, as well as Ford Escorts and Capris, Datsuns and BMWs, among others.

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT CROSSING THE LINE FIRST.

The magic of this class lies in its different shapes, sizes, weights, engines, drivetrains, braking and handling - from one of the most diversely interesting 20-year periods in automotive history.

As such, competition results are split into age and capacity classes. While roaring 600hp muscle cars lay rubber out the front, competition is just as intense through the field as evenly-matched cars fight for trophies among themselves.

Older or less developed cars sometimes need more skill to carry speed around a circuit. The smiles are just as wide among the dueling "slower" drivers after a race, though. Often, the Club Championship is won by a driver from a smaller capacity class.

WHAT SORT OF CAR SHOULD YOU THINK ABOUT?

Some competitors want a make and model they loved in the past, others look for a competitive car in a popular class. If you know a particular make intimately and have access to competition parts, then that might be the one to build, but it's a long road and many half-built cars languish in sheds.

It's quicker and more economical to buy a car that's already MA-logbooked. You'll find suitable cars advertised with JUST CARS, on specialist websites such as my105.com, or directly through the Historic Touring Car Association of Victoria (HTCAV) at htcav.com.au, or the HTCAV Facebook page.

TRAPS FOR THE UNWARY? BUDGETS?

When 45+ year-old cars are modified beyond their original intent, care is needed. Every make and model has its strengths, but weaknesses can become more pronounced under racing conditions. However, the HTCAV or your local state historic touring car club has a bank of knowledge. Historic touring is a welcoming community and you'll never be short of advice.

But there's one golden rule - "don't leap before you've listened". Read the rules and talk to the experts first! You'll be on the track sooner and for less money if you do.

Motor racing is expensive (so are boats and horses!), but it is possible to get started with a competitive car for under $50,000, depending on the make and class you want to run in. Being classics, values are also more likely to go up than down. . .

WHERE TO FROM HERE?

Whatever you choose to race, you'll need membership of an approved club to start the process of getting your MA licence (motorsport.org.au). If you don't have one, the HTCAV can help. Then you can enter a couple of sprint meetings to get your eye in and shake the car down before climbing into your suit and helmet.

Being part of the JUST CARS Historic Touring Car tribe is a really satisfying way to enjoy life and release you from the travails of the everyday world. C'mon!

While the big cars can mean big dollars, they can also equal big fun!

THE GREAT OUTDOORS – SYDNEY STYLE

After a stellar 2022 event, the National 4x4 Outdoors Show will return to Sydney this July.

PHOTOS Courtesy of Exhibition and Trade Fairs

For Sydneysiders looking to plan, prepare and stock up for their next big adventure in the great outdoors, the one-stop-shop that is the National 4x4 Outdoors Show is just around the corner, with this year's event scheduled for 14-16 July at the Sydney Showground, Homebush.

If your upcoming holiday plans involve exploring and enjoying our great country, the National 4x4 Outdoors Show is the place to be, with plenty on site from dozens of exhibitors, including all the big names, to equip your future adventures.

If it's inspiration you're after, the National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney has got you covered, too, with all the best personalities from the 4x4 and outback travel arena on site to share stories and answer questions.

The timing for this year's Sydney event makes it ideal to stock up on all the gear you need and pick up some valuable tips ahead of that Summer holiday getaway.

And with almost the entire exhibition space undercover, wet weather won't impact the event.

For full details on this year's National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney, as well as the latest information, go to the event website - 4x4show.com.au/sydney - where you can also purchase tickets.

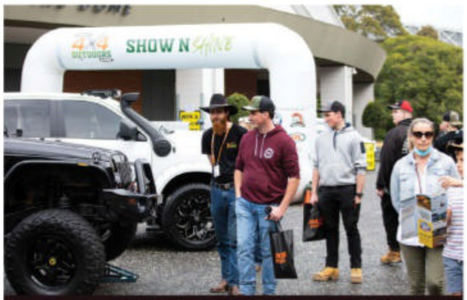
To stay in the loop with everything that's happening, subscribe to the National 4x4 Outdoors Show newsletter via the website.

STUFF - AND SPECIALS

Top brands from the 4x4 and outdoors industry that exhibited at last year's Sydney show are returning for 2023, including Bob Jane T Marts, Anaconda, Darche, Norweld Australia, Hulk 4x4, Ezytrail Campers, Maxtrax, Opposite Lock, Maxxis Tyres, Raptor Coatings, Hardkorr, PVS Automotive, Fulcrum Suspension and Torqit Performance, to name a few.

The success of last year's show has seen plenty of new exhibitors come on board this year, including Isuzu, MSA 4x4, Hema Maps, Boss Adventure, Hamer 4x4, Method Race Wheels, MRT, Rambler Vehicles, LMT Alloytech, Clearview Accessories, West Sydney 4x4 (for Ironman 4x4) and more.

Obviously, with so many exhibitors all in one place, the National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney is a great place to browse, compare and buy the latest off-road gear. What makes it even better is that show specials are available for all three days, with some genuine bargains to be had.



The Show N Shine is where you can show off your 4x4 rig, with the chance to win cash and prizes.

As well as top products from the 4x4 aftermarket industry and the latest in camping, caravanning and accessories, the National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney will also see the outdoor travel and tourism sector represented.

LISTEN, LEARN AND LAUGH

The National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney is much more than just a big shop, with plenty of live entertainment, informative presentations and interactive displays each day.

Leading the way here is the Outback Stage, a show favourite from the Brisbane and Melbourne events, where the finest and funniest personalities in outdoor lifestyle media inform, entertain and take questions from the audience.

Special guests locked in for July include Jocko from 4WD 24/7, Bri and Bridget from Red Dirt Diary, the Aussie Arvos crew and Tyler Thompson, while Sydney debutants for 2023 include the always popular Jase Andrews from All 4 Adventure and Sam Eyles from Built not Bought.

DISPLAYS AND DEMOS

In terms of attractions where you can take part, Isuzu's Iron Summit will show the stump-pulling torque and impressive braking of the D-MAX and MU-X on seemingly crazy inclines and declines. If you get the chance, take a passenger ride on the Iron Summit – it's a lot of fun!

The ARMA (Australian Recreational Motorists' Association) will provide 4x4 recovery demonstrations all weekend, while the Girls Day Out workshops will show that 4x4 repair and maintenance isn't purely the domain of blokes.

Attractions of a different kind include the wildlife shows presented by Black Snake Productions and live music from Cush Ryder in the Outback Bar.

There's also a Show N Shine, where punters present their 4x4 rigs – rusty or sparkling, fully custom or factory stock - for the chance to win cash and prizes across multiple categories, as well as free entry to the show.

OUTBACK STAGE

Special guests will share their stories on the Outback Stage.

NOTE: Entries for the Show N Shine were due to close on 19 June, but there may still be a chance for late entries. Email: sdavis@etf.com.au for more information.

NEW STUFF

An all-new attraction for the National 4x4 Outdoors Show Sydney is 'Mount Maxxis' that'll see Mad Matt take on a series of challenges on a prepared course in an off-roader provided for the event by Opposite Lock.

Not just 4x4 gear! The National 4x4 Outdoors Show has the latest in camping and caravanning, too.

Queensland number plates can be driven in any State!

Number plates issued by most States have proven to be excellent investments, and normally have out-performed the Stock Market and Property Indices. Their annual increase of some that we have followed have averaged 12.7% cumulative per annum.

One advantage of Queensland Plates being that they can be retained in one's possession, when not attached to a vehicle. Similar to holding Gold or Silver bullion. By way of an example, a set of NSW plates that we purchased in 1968 for $6000 recently sold for $2.45 Million.

We have experienced evidence of many similar spectacular increases. Ask your Accountant if you can hold these in your superannuation fund or SMF? If you are interested in any of the custom personal plates below, call John on 043 8888 043.

1971 FORD XY FALCON 500 EX HIGHWAY PATOL SEDAN

EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST

A wolf in sheep's clothing!! The Interceptor Falcons were built from Falcon GT 54H body shells including full Falcon GT running gear, larger radiator support with top brace, front crossmember step down plate and dual exhausts. All in a Falcon 500 disguise. New South Wales cars were fitted with FMX automatic transmissions while the Victorian cars were fitted with four speed Top Loader transmissions. This example is finished in Cruise Blue which was a government colour with contrasting tu-tone blue vinyl interior and was used by the New South Wales Police force for highway patrol duties in the Sydney CBD area. The engine is still its original matching numbers 351 Cleveland with 4V heads and FMX automatic transmission. Now available by appointment only in our Kogarah facility or do not hesitate to contact one of our friendly staff via phone or email for more information. #C138

1970 FORD MUSTANG BOSS 302 $175,000

This beautiful 1970 Boss 302 Mustang was produced on the 2nd of December 1969 and retailed through Heintzelmans Ford in Orlando Florida. The Marti report indicates that this Boss 302 Mustang was originally built with Grabber Blue paint, Black Rhino/Corinthian vinyl interior, a Boss 302 4V engine with a four speed Top Loader transmission and a 9" diff with a 3.50 axle ratio. Factory options on this car are a Shaker Hood Scoop, Sport Slats, AM / 8 Track Stereo Radio, Tinted Glass, and Magnum 500 Chrome Wheels. It has been treated to a concours style restoration and is in pristine condition. The undercarriage also presents nicely, and it too is done to factory specifications with red oxide with many of the factory markings redone. The car comes with paperwork such as previous titles for the car and a Ford build sheet too. . Now available by appointment only in our Kogarah facility or do not hesitate to contact one of our friendly staff via phone or email for more information. #C535

1975 HOLDEN LH TORANA SL/R 5000 TRIBUTE $135,000

A stunning example of an SL/R 5000 tribute. Starting out as a genuine SL/R L32 Torana and built by the current owner into this beautiful car we now offer for sale. Remaining in the original colour of Cotillion White but upgraded with flares, bonnet scoop, front and rear spoilers and that unforgettable alloy drop tank and topped off with a set of genuine gold mesh Simmons wheels. Along with a full respray by the current owner the interior has also been treated to a full make over all to factory spec in its original Black Slate vinyl. The original 253 Holden V8 engine has been replaced with a Holden 308 which is runs and sounds great. The transmission is a M21 four speed, and the diff is a Ford 9" with disc brakes. The underside of the car is just as nice as the top. If you are in the market for a Torana then this is the car. Now available by appointment only in our Kogarah facility or do not hesitate to contact one of our friendly staff via phone or email for more information. #C539

1993 FORD FALCON EB GT SEDAN $175,000

The Ford Falcon EB GT was released by Ford in 1992 to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Falcon GT. Only 265 were produced, 250 of which were delivered in Australia and 15 to New Zealand. This EB GT is one of 36 made in Cobalt Blue with a five-speed manual transmission and is build number 209. This EB GT has only travelled just over 1,500 kilometres. This car was originally delivered through Centralian Motors in the Northern Territory where it stayed until approximately 2020. This car is an absolute time warp and still retains all its original stickers on the panels, markings and comes with its original Pirelli tyres too. Also includes its original logbook and owner's manual. Rarely does an opportunity arise to be able to purchase a low kilometre example of this model. Now available by appointment only in our Kogarah facility or do not hesitate to contact one of our friendly staff via phone or email for more information. #C541

1971 FORD MUSTANG MACH 1 FASTBACK $85,000

It was originally built as a Grabber Blue Mach 1 and was fitted with a 4V 351 Cleveland, 4 speed Top Loader and a 9" diff. It also came with Deluxe interior, air conditioning, power steering with power disc brakes. The car has had 4 owners since it first came into Australia in 1974 and has at some time been converted to right hand drive. Now fitted with a mammoth 429 big block. Wheels are 17" Foose Nitrous with rear tyres 275/40/ZR17 and fronts 245/45/ZR17. The interior was fitted with a full reproduction interior kit including front seat foam and carpets in 2005. A complete digital dash kit from Dakota Digital has also been fitted along with a Dakota Digital cruise control system. Kenwood head unit, sub and amp were fitted in 2011 but head unit was updated to include the hands free. Now available by appointment only in our Kogarah facility or do not hesitate to contact one of our friendly staff via phone or email for more information. #C537

1953 CHEVROLET PICK UP $105,000

CALTEX

There is only one word that can describe this 1953 Chev Pick Up and that is COOL!! Everything from the killer patina to the LS1 Chev engine. The list of features on this Chev Pick Up is endless too beginning with air bag suspension all around, Pioneer sound system with reverse camera and remote start. As mentioned, an LS1 Chev engine gets this beauty down the road with help from a Turbo 350 automatic transmission and a Salisbury 10 Bolt diff. It also has a Jaguar front end and upgraded brakes on all four corners. Other features include a GPS speedo, Lokar shifter, central locking, and lastly LED head lights. All of which make this 50's classic more enjoyable to cruise. The Pick Up is sold with full New South Wales registration and is also fully engineered. ENGINE OVERHEATING? TRIED EVERYTHING?
IS RUST AND CALCIUM SCALE THE CAUSE?
THIS KIT CAN FIX THAT!

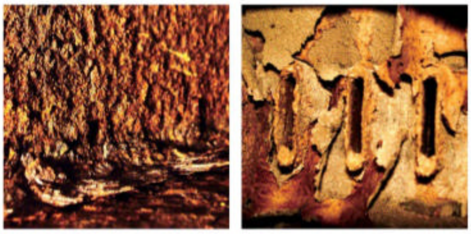
PETER MAHER
The person behind the chemistry of Liquid Intelligence

HOW TO FIX ENGINE OVERHEATING

We recommend you have a look at Liquid Intelligence 239 Radiator and Block Cleaning Kit. Liquid Intelligence 239 Part A is the business end of the kit. It's a concentrated organic cleaner that is designed to dissolve and break down insulating build ups of ferrous and mineral scale. And it will do it safely without reacting with or damaging aluminium, copper, brass, solder, cast iron, zinc alloys or any other component found in a cooling system.

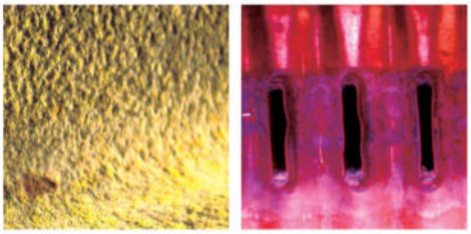
The Part B is also an important part of the cleaning process. It's a strong neutralized alkaline soap based cleaner that flushes the cooling system of impurities and waste materials and prepares it for the coolant to be then added.

Engine Block & Radiator BEFORE Liquid Intelligence 239



The image taken with a fibre optic camera shows deep rust and calcium deposits in the water jacket and radiator of an older vehicle. These deposits can decrease cooling system efficiency and cause engine overheating.

Engine Block & Radiator AFTER Liquid Intelligence 239



Liquid Intelligence 239 dissolved the insulating layer of rust scale back to bare metal...allowing heat to pass unimpeded to the coolant...fixing the overheating problem.

MAGNUM F

ALL NEW
MAGNUM F™

Consider Your Old T-56 Obsolete! TREMEC releases the Magnum-F™6-speed for fourth-generation Camaros, Firebirds and Holden Commodores. The long-awaited and highly-anticipated F-car-specific version of TREMEC's popular Magnum 6-speed has finally arrived!

Designed to replace T-56 transmissions in our Commodores from VT2 through to VZ, the Magnum-F leverages TREMEC's pervasive TR-6060/Magnum architecture in order to provide fourth-gen enthusiasts significantly improved performance and relief from a shrinking pool of quality T-56 replacement parts. Born in the vacuum created by the release of the original T-56 Magnum (now known simply as 'Magnum') back in 2009, the Magnum-F fills a longstanding void in the overall Magnum line with regard to shifter locations, addressing not only LS1-powered '98-02 F-bodies, but several other applications that utilize a similar shifter position. Beneficiaries include third-generation F-bodies,LT1-powered fourth-gens, LS-swapped late models of all varieties, and sport compact applications such as A80 Supra's, FD RX-7s and more! Where the original Magnum shifter locations may prove too far forward, and the extended length Magnum XL's too far back, the Magnum-F's in-between position often proves to be just right. Inside, the Magnum-F benefits from the same durable componentry found in many of today's hardest hitting OEM muscle & sports cars. Over the T-56, the Magnum-F boast increased face-width on all gears, a robust combination of double and triple cone synchronizers, enhanced webbing in the maincase, provisions for a cooler circuit and more! TREMEC also took the opportunity to upgrade the shifter to an isolator type unit, like that found on its Magnum XL. The shifter reduces in-cabin noise and vibrations while at the same time providing the precise and communicative shift feel that all Magnum's are known for. And like all TREMEC aftermarket transmissions, the Magnum-F is made from 100%brand-new OEM-quality content and features a 12-month/12,000-mile warranty.

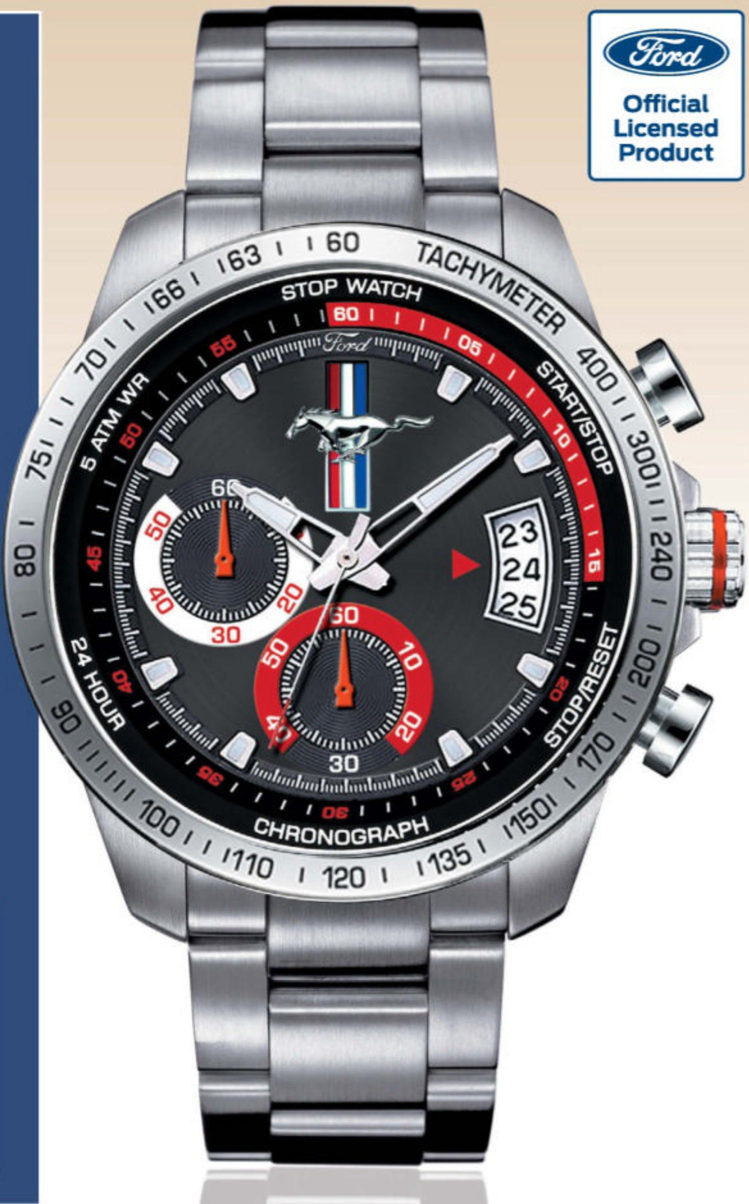
Ford Motor Company Trademarks and Trade Dress used under license to The Bradford Exchange.



Official Licensed Product

In 1964, Ford launched a vehicle that became an instant classic – the Ford Mustang, the forerunner of the 'Pony cars', which were small coupés and convertibles with large-volume six or eight-cylinder engines. Now you can celebrate this legendary car with the officially licensed Ford Mustang 'The Legend' Men's Chronograph Watch, exclusively from The Bradford Exchange.

Full of impressive details, the watch is hand-crafted in a classic design which perfectly captures the spirit of the famous 'Pony cars'. The officially licensed timepiece showcases a durable stainless steel casing and strap, in addition to a rich dial with three precision chronograph dials with stop/start function and a date display. Also displayed is the iconic logo – the Ford Mustang pony that proudly 'gallops' at the 12 o'clock position. On the casing reverse is the famed Ford Mustang logo and individual edition number of the watch.

Save Thousands When Fixing Leaking Oil Seals & Gaskets

"MY PRODUCT IS THE ONLY ONE THAT IS 100% GUARANTEED TO WORK AND IS BACKED BY 7 DAY A WEEK TECHNICAL PHONE SUPPORT."

PETER MAHER
The person behind the chemistry of Liquid Intelligence
1800 441 163

MADE IN AUSTRALIA

SAFELY FIXES LEAKING OIL SEALS & GASKETS ON VINTAGE, CLASSICS AND LATE MODEL VEHICLES
Here Are Just A Few Examples Of Where It Has Been Used Successfully

✓ Front & Rear Main Seals
✓ Auto Transmissions Seals
✓ Gear / Transfer Box Seals
✓ Valve Stem Seals
✓ Differential Seals
✓ Powersteering Seals
✓ Tappet Cover Seals
✓ Sump Seals
✓ Timming Chain Cover Seals
✓ Engine Seals & Gaskets
✓ Diff / Swivel Hub Seals
✓ Overdrive Seals

LIQUID INTELLIGENCE 230 "I GUARANTEE IT WILL WORK FOR YOU"

✓ Safely fixes dry leaking oil seals & gaskets for years
✓ This is the strongest oil leak fix you can get
✓ Made in AUSTRALIA & comes with my money back guarantee

Often these leaks go unchecked as the cost of replacing them is too high or you decide to "live with it".

Revitalises All Seals & Gaskets, Including;
Styrene Butadiene Rubber (SBR), Nitrile Butadiene Rubber, NBR Nitrile, Buna-N, Polyacrylate, Polyacrylonitrile, Neoprene Rubber, FKM (Viton), Silicone, R.T.V Rubber Sealant, Cork/Rubber Combination

Liquid Intelligence 230 will work regardless of seal construction or material if the seals integrity is undamaged.

Normally a broken or cracked seal will leak profusely, whilst a worn, hardened or dried seal will just leave irritating puddles of oil under the vehicle or equipment after each use.

You can call Peter for a chat about product and application information or simply to purchase Liquid Intelligence 7am to 7pm seven days a week

ASSISTING VETERANS IN NEED

Our car rally visits parts of outback Queensland on sealed roads, learning about the places, the people and historic war time events that helped shape Australia.

Pack a swag, pack your sense of humour and prepare to be amazed at some of the effort it took to save Australia during World War 2.

Brad Keillor reviewed Fuel Doctors - 5★
15 March at 16:21
Ford Australia could not fix the ticking noise in my 2016 XLT ranger have been putting up with noise for 30k km and has been to ford dealer 5 times and has not been fixed. I have used fuel doctor for 3 tanks with initial heavy dose and the ticking has gone completely gone. Highly rate this product I now enjoy driving my Ranger again.

fuel doctor®

Fuel Doctor is multi faceted. Lubricity is one of those facets, by increasing your fuel's lubricity you have decreased the metal to metal contact that was making the noise

Thanks Brad!

AUSTRALIAN LANCIA REGISTER The Australian Lancia Register is dedicated to tracking and helping to ensure the preservation of one of the most important automobile marques of all time. The Australian Lancia Register was formed without any formalities in 1970, in preparation for celebrations of the Lambda's 50th Birthday. The Lambda is particularly significant in the Australian Lancia scene with some 450 being sold new in the country, of which well over 100 survive today. The Register's major event is the biennial Castlemaine Rally, held in October of the odd years. This event attracts well over 100 Lancias with most models from the Kappa through to the Thema being represented. In addition to running the Castlemaine rallies, the Register publishes a Newsletter five or six times a year. We do not hold monthly meetings because our membership of about 250 is scattered across a country about the size of central Europe. Instead, members keep in touch through informal local networks, state clubs in Queensland and New South Wales, or with distant members with similar models. We also have some 30 overseas members. Events throughout the year published in the newsletter, AGM first Sunday in December. Contact Treasurer Michael Southgate 0405 452 500 or email treasurer@alr.org.au Website: www.facebook.comAustralianLanciaRegister PO Box 463, East Melbourne, VIC, 3002
